Ahara is an Indian fine-dining restaurant that honours the traditional hospitality and rich flavors of India through a contemporary interpretation of its cuisine. The restaurant's name derives from the Sanskrit word for food.

The dining experience at Ahara engages multiple senses. The food presentation is intricate, and the interiors are thoughtfully designed taking inspiration from traditional Indian art, design, and architecture while incorporating modern elements. You'll also be enveloped in calming aromas that add to the overall experience. While you dine, you can enjoy the richness of Indian music, both Carnatic and Hindustani. Using your fingers to eat is highly recommended at Ahara since it enhances the dining experience and allows you to fully engage with the textures, flavors, and aromas of the food on your plate.

From savoury appetisers to tantalising main courses and delectable desserts, our renowned chefs take you on an unforgettable journey through India's diverse culinary traditions.
